NOTICES TO MARINERS.

THE following Notices to Mariners are published for general information.

HUGH M. NELSON.

[Extract from New Zealand Gazette, 10th December, 1896.]
No. 36 of 1896.

FAREWELL SPIT LIGHTHOUSE, WESTERN ENTRANCE TO COOK STRAIT.

Marine Department,
Wellington, N.Z., 4th December, 1896.

NOTICE is hereby given, that a new tower for the light at Farewell Spit has been erected 176 ft. eastward of the present tower, and that, in consequence of the removal of the apparatus from the old to the new tower, no light will be exhibited on the nights of the 17th and 18th January, 1897.

On and after the night of the 19th January, 1897, the light will be exhibited from the new tower, which is in lat. 40° 33' S. and long. 173° 2' E., as measured from the Admiralty chart.

The light (which is a revolving white light of the second order dioptric, attaining its greatest brilliancy once a minute) will show all round, except on the outer side of the western portion of the Spit from the lighthouse, where it is shut in by sandhills.

Over the Spit end the light will be red, in order to warn mariners of their approach to that danger.

The light will be elevated 97 ft. above the sea level, and, allowing 15 ft. for the height of the observer's eye, it will be visible 15½ nautical miles in clear weather.

The tower is an open-framed iron structure, painted in alternate bands of red and white; and is 88 ft. in height from the ground to the top of the lantern. The old tower will be taken down as soon as possible after the exhibition of the light from the new tower.

It is anticipated that the various magnetic bearings of the light in the new tower will correspond with those already published in regard to the old tower—that is, over the Spit end (that is, between the bearings of N.W. ½ N. to W. by ½ N.) the light will be red, in order to caution mariners of their approach to that danger; but, should it be found that there is any alteration, due notice will be given as soon as the exact bearings have been ascertained.

From soundings recently taken by Captain Allman, of this department, it has been found that the water has shoaled 2 fathoms in the vicinity of the Spit end as compared with the soundings shown on the Admiralty chart. These changes in the soundings extend from the Spit end, in a S.E. by E. direction, nearly two miles.

Caution.—Vessels should not enter the sector of red light within a distance of six miles from the lighthouse.

All bearings are magnetic.

Chart affected—No. 2616, Sheet VII., N.Z.

W. C. WALKER,
For Minister of Marine.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA.

No. 6 of 1896.

GULF OF ST. VINCENT. PORT ADELAIDE RIVER.

NOTICE is hereby given that on or about 1st February, 1897, the Port Adelaide River will be Lighted by Electricity, in consequence of which the whole system of Buoys and Light Beacons will be rearranged.

Light Beacons Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4 of the present system will be discontinued.

All Buoys marking the Channel will be removed, except the two outside of the Lighthouse, two Black Buoys near the Old Boat Channel, and the two Mooring Buoys (for vessels with explosives) in Lipson Reach.

The new system will consist of (5) five pairs of Leading Lights, and (8) eight single light Beacons.

The pairs of Leading Lights and single light Beacons will in future be numbered from seaward, instead of in the opposite way as at present—that is to say, No. 12 and the light behind it of the old system will be No. 1 of the new, and so on.

The near light of each lead will be red, and the far one white, except in the case of No. 1 lead, where the far light will be red as at present, and the near one white; these two have not been altered—because the red light of No. 1 on with No. 2 is an established lead over the Ocean Steamers' Mooring Buoy; and the white light of No. 1 on with No. 2 leads over the Bell Buoy on Wonga Shoal.

The two lights of No. 1 lead through the Outer Cutting near the Lighthouse, as at present.

The single lights, Nos. 2 to 9 inclusive, will mark the edge of the Channel from opposite the Old Boat Channel to Mutton Cove.

Nos. 10, 11, 12, and 13 are leads, i.e., pairs.

No. 10 is placed on the shore, abreast of the two Mooring Buoys for Vessels with explosives, and leads from Mutton Cove halfway up Lipson Reach.

No. 11 is placed near the Torpedo Station, and leads up the other half of Lipson Reach to the North Arm.

No. 12 is placed on the Swamp south of the False Arm, and leads from the North Arm to the False Arm.

No. 13 is placed on Snowden Beach, and leads from the False Arm to Luff Point.

Sailing directions, and further notice as to the exact date of the alterations, will be issued in due course.

This affects Charts Nos. 2389 A. and B., Plan 1750.

THOS. N. STEPHENS, President Marine Board.
Marine Board Offices, Port Adelaide, 14th December, 1896.

No. 21 of 1896.

EXHIBITION OF A NEW LIGHT.

PORT OF HANGARKOTTA, SOUTH CANARA DISTRICT,
MADRAS PRESIDENCY, INDIA, WEST COAST.

A Sixth Order Red Dioptric Port Light was exhibited at this port on the 9th November, 1896, and is visible seaward about 8 miles on a clear night from North through East to South except where obscured by trees between South and S. 9° E., and by St. Mary's Isles between North and N. 5° E., and between N. 9° E. and N. 15° E. All bearings magnetic.

2. The apparatus, which is 12 feet above high water, is placed on the top of the small masonry column, on the beach, marking the northern limit of the port, and not on the southern pillar as stated in the preliminary notice issued on the 27th October last.

3. As this light is only intended for the use of coasting vessels during the fair-weather season, it will be extinguished yearly between the 1st June and the 14th September, both days inclusive.

HIS Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, and in pursuance of the provisions of "The Post and Telegraph Act, 1891," has been pleased to make the following Regulations, which commence and take effect on and from the First day of March, 1897, from which date all Regulations relating to Telephones and Telephonic Communication heretofore made are hereby revoked.

A. J. THYNNE.

REGULATIONS FOR TELEPHONE LINES.

1. Applications for connection with the telephone system through the Central Exchange at the General Post Office or otherwise shall be forwarded to the Under Secretary, General Post Office, Brisbane.

2. The erection of telephone lines will, except as hereinafter provided, be carried out by the Government.

3. For connection with the Central Telephone Exchange at the General Post Office, Brisbane, for a day and a night service (including the advantage of communicating with the telephone exchanges in the suburbs of Brisbane), subscribers will be charged the following rates:—

	Per Annum.
Providing line of half-mile or under, one telephone set complete, and service at exchange	£6 0 0
Each additional half-mile of line or fraction thereof	1 5 0
Extra set of telephones, each	2 0 0
Magneto extension bells, each	0 10 0
Special appliances as per agreement.

NOTE.—When a subscriber already owns an instrument, its maintenance will now be borne by the Government, and a new instrument supplied when necessary. Existing instruments will not be allowed to remain in use if they are in any way faulty.

4. Subscribers to the Telephone Exchanges will be allowed to have their names recorded twice in the "Telephone Directory," free of charge, but, in the event of more than two names being required to be inserted by a subscriber, an annual fee of five shillings will be charged for each additional name. No subscriber will, however, be allowed to have more than six names inserted in the directory. Before any additional names will be inserted in the directory, evidence must be produced to the satisfaction of the Postmaster-General that the subscriber is acting as agent for the person or firm whose name he desires to be inserted, and in no case will any one but the subscriber be allowed to use the telephone on behalf of such person or firm.

5. Persons occupying offices in the same building can jointly subscribe to the Telephone Exchange under the same exchange number, on paying, in addition to one ordinary subscription, for each additional subscriber two pounds.

6. All rates will be payable half-yearly in advance, and include attendance, adjustments, repairs, and renewals of lines, instruments, and batteries.

7. Mileage will be calculated radially from the exchange as the centre.

8. Every subscriber shall enter into an agreement, in accordance with these Regulations, for the use of the lines for a period of not less than three years, after which one calendar month's notice must be given of intention to discontinue the use of the same.

9. Rent will be charged half-yearly from the date of completion of the line. The first half-year's rent to be paid in advance, and thereafter half-yearly in advance. Should any subscriber be in arrear with his rent, or fail to pay the same on being requested to do so within one month, the Postmaster-General shall have power to disconnect his telephone, cancel the agreement, remove the name of the subscriber from the list, and enter upon the premises for the purpose of removing all instruments, wire, &c., being the property of the Postmaster-General, without prejudice to the right of the Postmaster-General to claim the rent and other charges due.

10. All telephone instruments, batteries, &c., fixed after the 1st March, 1897, will be the exclusive property of the Postmaster-General, and may be removed upon the determination of the agreement, for which purpose the Postmaster-General or his officers shall have free access to the premises of any subscriber.

11. The Postmaster-General or any officer appointed by him shall also have access to the premises of any subscriber for purposes of inspection whenever required.

12. Telephones shall be used only by the subscriber or his family or employees, and exclusively on his own business.

13. Any infringement of the above Rule will render the subscriber liable to have the telephone disconnected, without prejudice to the right of the Postmaster-General to claim the rent and other charges payable for the remainder of the term.

14. If any instrument be moved by the Department, the subscriber will be required to pay the cost or such proportion of the cost of the work as the Postmaster-General may determine. The rent and other charges will be adjusted according to the altered length of the line.

15. The subscriber will be required to pay for all damage to instruments beyond the ordinary wear and tear.

16. With a view to facilitate business, and for the better conduct of the system, telephone messages containing unbecoming expressions must be refrained from, and language of an obscene nature, or of a character calculated to provoke a breach of the peace, is strictly forbidden. Any violation of this Regulation will render the offender liable to have his telephone disconnected from the Exchange and his line dismantled.

SUBURBAN TELEPHONE EXCHANGES.

17. Before a Suburban Exchange can be established fifteen subscribers will be required for a day service (i.e., between the hours of 9 a.m. and 8 p.m.), and thirty subscribers for a day and a night service.

18. The rates for connections with Suburban Exchanges will be as under, subject to the same conditions as the subscribers to the Central Exchange:—

	Per Annum.
For providing line of half-mile or under, and one telephone set complete	£6 0 0
For each additional half-mile up to three miles	1 5 0
For over three miles, special rates shall be fixed by the Postmaster-General.

19. A Suburban Exchange is one within a radius of eight miles from the Central Exchange.

COUNTRY TELEPHONE EXCHANGES.

20. Before a Country Exchange can be established fifteen subscribers will be required for a day service only (i.e., between the hours of 9 a.m. and 8 p.m.), and thirty for a day and night service.

21. The rates for connections with the Country Exchanges will be as under, subject to the same conditions as subscribers to the Central Exchange:—

	Per Annum.
For providing line of half-mile or under, and one telephone set complete	£6 0 0
For each additional half-mile or under	1 5 0

PRIVATE TELEPHONE LINES OR TELEGRAPH LINES BETWEEN HOUSES, OFFICES, &c.

22. Private telephone lines (special single wire and instruments not connected with any exchange) will be provided and maintained between private houses, offices, warehouses, mines, factories, or other places on payment of the following rates annually for a term of not less than three years, and subject to the same general conditions as subscribers to the Central Exchange.

If within a radius of twenty miles of Brisbane:—

	Per Annum.
For any distance not exceeding one mile radially	£5 0 0
For every additional half-mile radially	1 5 0
For each set of telephones (magneto)	2 0 0
For each set of telegraph instruments, A, B, C	5 0 0
For each set of Morse printing instruments	10 0 0

Outside the twenty miles radius, at such rates as may be fixed by the Postmaster-General.

PUBLIC TELEPHONES (CALL OFFICES).

23. The following will be the charges payable by the public for the use of public telephones, wherever established in the colony, to subscribers in the same district:—

For any period not exceeding three minutes	3d.
For every additional three minutes or portion of three minutes	3d.

No person will be allowed to use the line for more than six minutes consecutively, if other applicants are waiting to use it; and in case where the line may be engaged, applications will be registered, and connections will be made in the order of priority of application.

TRUNK LINES.

24. Where telephone exchanges in different towns are connected by trunk lines, such lines may be used for conversation by local subscribers and the general public on payment of the following charges:—

For twenty-five miles or under	6d.
For fifty miles	1s.
For one hundred miles	1s. 6d.
Every additional forty miles or fraction thereof	6d.

Special rates will be charged where submarine or other specially expensive lines are used.

25. The period of a conversation will be limited to three minutes, but any person may secure an uninterrupted use of the trunk line for six minutes by paying a double fee.

DELIVERY OF LOCAL TELEPHONOGRAMS.

26. A charge of sixpence for twenty words (including address and signature) and a penny for every additional four words or less will be payable upon telephonograms sent over a private wire and intended to be delivered within a radius of one mile from the exchange into which the private wire is led; beyond that distance the ordinary rates for delivery of telegrams will be charged.

27. Before availing themselves of the two foregoing facilities subscribers will be required to deposit a sum calculated to equal the value of the month's transactions, and to enter into an agreement to pay the accounts for such transactions as they become due monthly.

REGULATIONS FOR THE ERECTION OF PRIVATE TELEPHONE LINES BY PERSONS OTHER THAN THE POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

28. The sole right to erect and control telephone lines over public roads is vested in the Government, but permission will be granted, in certain cases, to private persons to erect or use telephone lines through Government or public lands, or over roads, &c.

29. The Post and Telegraph Department may either—

- Erect the line and keep it in order, charging the usual rental of five pounds for the first mile or any intermediate distance, and a proportionate rate of one pound five shillings for every additional half of a mile or fraction thereof; or
- Grant permission for its erection upon payment of an annual royalty of ten shillings per mile for the first five miles, and five shillings per mile or fraction of a mile exceeding five; but will undertake no responsibility in connection with the maintenance or repair of such line.

The Government reserves the right of deciding which of these two courses will be approved.

30. When a telephone wire can be run on the poles of a telegraph line, the Post and Telegraph Department will, if approved, carry a wire thereon at the rate before mentioned, marked (a), but the Government reserves the right to determine on what telegraph lines telephone wires may be allowed.

31. Permission to have telephone lines can only be granted to private persons conditionally upon their being used solely for the business of the applicants; any attempt to use such lines for other than their own business, by the applicants, will be met by a withdrawal of the permission granted, and the forfeiture of any rent paid.

32. The Government reserves the right of withdrawing the provision granted, on giving six months' notice of such intention.

33. All lines constructed by persons other than the Postmaster-General under the provisions of this Regulation shall be constructed and maintained in a manner approved by the Postmaster-General.

34. Should the next preceding Regulation not be complied with, the Postmaster-General reserves the right to withdraw any consent given under Regulation 28.

RULES TO BE OBSERVED IN USING TELEPHONES CONNECTED WITH EXCHANGES.

To answer a call.—Be prompt. Do not ring in reply, but remove your receiver and answer by speaking.

If by adhering strictly to the above rules you fail to receive satisfaction, report it as a fault immediately to the Officer in Charge of the Exchange.

Post and Telegraph Department,
Brisbane, 30th December, 1896.

HIS Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, has been pleased to approve of the following Regulations for Securing the Safety of the Public and for Securing a Proper and Sufficient Supply of Electrical Energy, framed in accordance with the provisions of "The Electric Light and Power Act, 1896."

A. J. THYNNE.

REGULATIONS FOR SECURING THE SAFETY OF THE PUBLIC, AND FOR SECURING A PROPER AND SUFFICIENT SUPPLY OF ELECTRICAL ENERGY.

DEFINITIONS.

The several terms to which meanings are assigned in "The Electric Light and Power Act, 1896," have the same respective meanings in these Regulations.

The term "consumer" means any body or person supplied or entitled to be supplied with energy by the Electric Authority.

The term "consumer's wires" means any electric lines on a consumer's premises which are connected with the service lines of the Electric Authority at the consumer's terminals.

The term "consumer's terminals" means the ends of the electric wires situate upon any consumer's premises, and belonging to him, at which the supply of energy is delivered from the service conductors.

The term "aerial line" means any electric line which is placed above ground and in the open air.

The term "service conductor" means any conductor used to connect any aerial or underground main conductor with a consumer's premises.

The term "pressure" means the difference of electrical potential between any two conductors through which a supply of energy is given, or between any part of either conductor and the earth; and—

(a) When the conditions of the supply are such that the pressure may at any time exceed 500 volts if continuous, or 250 volts if alternating, but cannot exceed 3,000 volts, whether continuous or alternating, the supply shall be deemed a high-pressure supply;

(b) When the conditions of the supply are such that the pressure may on either system exceed 3,000 volts, the supply shall be deemed an extra high-pressure supply.

The terms "high-pressure" and "extra-high pressure" respectively are used in relation to electric lines, conductors, circuits, and apparatus, according to the conditions of the supply delivered through the same or particular portions thereof.

When these Regulations require any metallic body to be "efficiently connected with earth," it shall be connected with the general mass of earth in such manner as will insure at all times an immediate and safe discharge of electrical energy.

A.—REGULATIONS FOR SECURING THE SAFETY OF THE PUBLIC.

1. Pressure of supply to consumers.—The pressure of a supply delivered to any consumer shall not exceed 250 volts at any pair of terminals, except with the express approval of the Minister. Such approval will only be given for special purposes and on the joint application of the consumer and the Electric Authority, and the supply will be subject to such further conditions as the Minister may from time to time prescribe.

2. Pressure of supply to transforming apparatus.—The pressure of a supply delivered to a transforming station or to transforming apparatus on a consumer's premises may exceed 250 volts, but shall not exceed the limits of high pressure.

3. Limitations of extra high-pressure supply.—An extra high-pressure supply shall not be given except to distributing stations or other premises in the sole occupation of the Electric Authority, and with the written consent of the Minister, and subject to such conditions as he may prescribe.

4. Maximum current in conductors.—The maximum working current in any conductor shall not be sufficient to raise the temperature of the conductor or any part thereof to such an extent as to materially alter the physical condition or specific resistance of the insulating covering

(if any), or in any case to raise such temperature to a greater extent than 30° F.; the cross-sectional area and conductivity at joints must be sufficient to avoid local heating, and the joints must be protected against corrosion.

5. Minimum size of conductors.—The sectional area of the conductor in any electric line laid or erected in any street after the date of these Regulations shall not be less than the area of a circle of one-tenth of an inch in diameter, and where the conductor is formed of a strand of wires each separate wire shall be at least as large as No. 20 standard wire gauge.

6. Specification of insulating material.—All material used for insulating electric lines or apparatus shall be of the best quality, and thoroughly durable and efficient, having regard to the conditions of its use. Suitable provision shall be made for the protection of the insulating material against injury or removal.

If the protection so provided be wholly or partly metallic, it shall be efficiently connected with earth.

7. Insulation test of electric lines.—Every main shall be tested for insulation after having been placed in position and before it is used for the purposes of supply, the testing pressure being at least 200 volts, and the Electric Authority shall duly record the results of the tests of each main, or section of a main.

8. Maintenance of insulation.—The insulation of every complete circuit used for the supply of energy, including all machinery, apparatus, and devices forming part of, or in connection with, such circuit, shall be so maintained that the leakage current shall not under any conditions exceed one-thousandth part of the maximum supply current; and suitable means shall be provided for the immediate indication and localisation of leakage. Every leakage shall be remedied without delay.

Every such circuit shall be tested for insulation at least once in every week, and the Electric Authority shall duly record the results of the testings.

Provided that, when the Minister has approved of any part of any electric circuit being connected with earth, the provisions of this Regulation shall not apply to that circuit so long as the connection with earth exists.

9. High-pressure conductors to be covered.—Every high-pressure conductor shall be continuously covered with insulating material to a thickness of not less than one-tenth part of an inch; and in cases where the extreme difference of potential in the circuit exceeds 2,000 volts, the thickness of insulating material shall not be less in inches or parts of an inch than the number obtained by dividing the number expressing the volts by 20,000.

10. Testing of insulation of all parts of any high-pressure circuit.—A high-pressure circuit shall not be brought into use unless the insulation of every part thereof has withstood the continuous application, during one hour, of pressure exceeding the maximum pressure to which it is intended to be subjected in use—that is to say, in the case of every electric line a pressure twice the said maximum pressure, and in the case of every machine, device, or apparatus a pressure 50 per cent. greater than the said maximum pressure.

The Electric Authority shall duly record the results of each test.

11. Quick-acting cut-off for high-pressure lines, &c.—Every high-pressure electric line, conductor, or other apparatus shall be protected by a suitable automatic quick-acting cut-off.

Provided that it shall not be incumbent upon the Electric Authority to provide such a cut-off for the outer conductor of a concentric main which is, with the approval of the Minister, efficiently connected with earth.

12. Transformers.—In every case where a high-pressure supply is transformed for the purpose of supply to one or more consumers, some suitable automatic and quick-acting means shall be provided to protect the consumers' wires from any accidental contact with or leakage from the high-pressure system, either within or without the transforming apparatus.

13. Limit of power in high-pressure electric line.—A high-pressure electric line shall not be used for the transmission of more than 300,000 watts, or, in the case of an aerial line, 50,000 watts, except with the consent in writing of the Minister, and efficient means shall be provided to prevent this limit being at any time exceeded.

14. Protection from lightning.—Where any portion of any electric line or any support for an electric line is exposed in such a position as to be liable to injury from lightning, it shall be efficiently protected against such injury.

15. Accidents to be reported.—Where any accident by explosion or fire, or any other accident of such kind as to have caused or be likely to have caused loss of life or personal injury, has occurred at any part of any electric line or work, the Electric Authority shall give immediate notice thereof to the Minister.

AERIAL LINES, WHEN ERECTED WITH THE NECESSARY CONSENTS.

16. Maximum intervals between supports.—Every aerial line shall be attached to supports at intervals not exceeding 200 feet where the direction of the line is straight, or 150 feet where the direction is curved, or where the line makes a horizontal angle at the point of support.

17. Supports and construction of aerial lines.—Every support of an aerial line shall be of a durable material and properly stayed against forces due to wind pressure, change of direction of the line, or unequal lengths of span. The factor of safety shall be for aerial lines and suspending wires at least six, and for all other parts of the structure at least twelve, taking the maximum possible wind pressure at 35 lb. per square foot. Every support, if of metal, shall be efficiently connected with earth.

18. Aerial conductors to be insulated.—Every aerial conductor shall be continuously insulated with a durable and efficient material, and shall be further efficiently protected on the outside against injury by removal or abrasion. If this protection be wholly or partly metallic, it shall be efficiently connected with earth.

19. Attachment of aerial lines.—All aerial lines shall be attached to insulators, and shall be so guarded that they cannot fall away from the support. Conductors covered with insulating material shall not be attached to the insulators by uninsulated metal binders.

20. Height from ground and distance from buildings, &c.—An aerial line shall not in any part thereof be at a less height from the ground than 20 feet, or within 5 feet measured horizontally, or 7 feet measured vertically, from any building or erection other than a support for the line, except where brought into a building for the purpose of supply.

21. Service lines from aerial lines.—Service lines from aerial lines shall be led as directly as possible to insulators firmly attached to some portion of the consumer's premises which is not accessible to any person without the use of a ladder or other special appliance, and from this point of attachment they shall be enclosed and protected in accordance with the subsequent Regulations as to electric lines on the consumer's premises. Every portion of any service line which is outside a building but is within 7 feet from the building shall be completely enclosed in stout indiarubber tubing.

22. Protection of telegraph and telephone lines from induction.—Every aerial conductor shall be placed and used with due regard to electric lines and works from time to time used, or intended to be used, for the purpose of telegraphic or telephonic communication, or the currents in such electric lines and works, and every reasonable means shall be employed in the placing and use of aerial conductors, to prevent telegraph and telephone wires being injuriously affected, whether by induction or otherwise, to the entire satisfaction of the Postmaster-General. (See Part IV. of "The Electric Light and Power Act, 1896.")

23. Angle of crossing thoroughfares.—Where an aerial line crosses a street, the angle between the line and the direction of the street at the place of crossing shall not be less than 60 degrees, and the spans shall be as short as possible.

24. Aerial conductors over housetops.—Where necessary to run aerial conductors over the top of any buildings, they shall be kept at least 7 feet clear above the buildings; and all poles placed on buildings shall be fixed in shoes or plates, so that the downward pressure may be distributed over a large surface; such poles must be properly stayed with stranded galvanised-iron or steel wires, and if of metal be efficiently connected to earth, and if of wood the poles shall be provided with efficient lightning conductors.

25. Crossing wires, &c.—Where any aerial line is erected so as to cross one or more telegraph, telephone, or other wires, it may pass over, under, or, when specially permitted by the Minister, between such wires, provided precautions are taken to keep such line at least 1 foot clear of the other wires in all directions; and both the aerial line and the telegraph and telephone wires shall be respectively affixed to separate supports, placed within 6 feet of the point of intersection where practicable, but in no case to exceed 10 feet, and further protected from coming in contact, under any circumstances, by guard irons or wires; all such guard irons or wires to be efficiently connected with earth. Where an aerial line crosses, or is in proximity to, any metallic substance, precautions shall be taken by the Electric Authority against the possibility of the line coming into contact with the metallic substance or of the metallic substance coming into contact with the line by breakage or otherwise.

26. Suspending wires.—Every aerial line having a sectional area greater than 7, No. 16, S.W.G., shall be suspended, by means of non-metallic ligaments, to a suspending wire, securely affixed to the support, and efficiently connected with earth at every point of support. Every such suspending wire shall be in lengths not exceeding 300 feet, and shackled with insulating shackles. All suspending wires, if of iron or steel, shall be galvanised.

27. Discharge of pressure in case of fire.—In the case of any high-pressure aerial line exceeding one-half mile in total length, means shall be provided whereby the pressure may be discharged from any portion of the line erected over or alongside of any building or buildings without loss of time in case of fire or other emergency.

28. Maintenance.—Every aerial line, including its supports and all the structural parts and electrical appliances and devices belonging to or connected with the line, shall be duly and efficiently supervised and maintained as regards both electrical and mechanical conditions. Every support shall bear a distinctive mark approved by the Minister to indicate the ownership.

29. Disused aerial lines to be removed.—No aerial line or support or attachment thereto shall remain erected for more than one month after it has ceased to be in use, unless the Electric Authority intends, within a period not exceeding three months, to take it again into use, in which case the Electric Authority shall give notice of such intention to the Minister.

30. Bare conductors for long distances.—For the purpose of transmission of electrical energy over long distances the Governor in Council may, on the recommendation of the Minister, after due inquiry by the Minister, and on his being satisfied that the public safety will not be endangered thereby, grant permission, under special conditions, for the erection of bare conductors overhead in sparsely populated districts and beyond the area of cities and towns.

ELECTRIC LINES OTHER THAN AERIAL LINES.

31. Construction of receptacles for electric lines.—All conduits, pipes, casings, and street boxes used as receptacles for electric lines shall be constructed of durable material, and where laid under carriage-ways shall be of ample strength to prevent damage from heavy traffic; and reasonable means shall be taken by the Electric Authority to prevent accumulation of gas in such receptacles.

32. Crossing pipes, &c.—Where any electric line crosses or is in proximity to any metallic substance, special precautions shall be taken by the Electric Authority against the possibility of any electrical discharge to the metallic substance from the line or from any metal conduit pipe or casing enclosing the line.

33. Electric continuity of metal conduits, pipes, and casings.—All metal conduits, pipes, or casings containing any electric line shall be efficiently connected with earth, and shall be so jointed and connected across all street boxes and other openings as to make good electrical connection throughout their whole length.

34. Precautions against charging of short lengths of pipe, &c.—Where isolated lengths of metal conduit, pipe, or casing are used for the protection of any electric line at street crossings or similar positions, special precautions shall be taken to prevent the possibility of any electrical charging thereof.

35. Precautions to be taken when bare conductors are used.—Where the conductors of electric lines placed in any conduit are not continuously covered with insulating material, they shall be secured in position, and no unfixed uninsulated material of a conducting nature shall be contained in the conduit. No such conductor shall be at a higher potential than 300 volts.

Adequate precautions shall also be taken to insure that no accumulation of water shall take place in any part of the conduit, and to prevent any dangerous access of moisture to the conductors or the insulators. In the case of any such electric lines laid in conduits, the insulators shall be so disposed that they can be readily inspected.

36. High-pressure lines laid above ground.—Every portion of any high-pressure electric line placed above the surface of the ground, or in any subway not in the sole occupation of the Electric Authority, shall be completely enclosed either in a tube of highly insulating material embedded in brickwork, masonry, or cement concrete, or in strong metal casing efficiently connected with earth.

37. High-pressure lines laid in proximity to other electric lines or to the surface of the ground.—Where any high-pressure electric line is laid beneath the surface of the ground, efficient means shall be taken to render it impossible that the surface of the ground or any neighbouring electric line or conductor shall become charged by leakage from the high-pressure electric line.

STREET BOXES.

38. Street boxes.—In addition to the provisions contained in Regulation 31 as to the construction of receptacles for electric lines, the following regulations shall be observed with respect to the construction of street boxes:—

- (a) The covers of all street boxes shall be so secured that they cannot be opened, except by means of a special appliance.
- (b) The covers of all street boxes containing high-pressure apparatus other than cables shall be efficiently connected with earth, and efficient means shall be taken to render it impossible that the covers or other exposed parts of these boxes, or any adjacent material forming the surface of the street, shall become electrically charged, whether by reason of leakage, defect, or otherwise.
- (c) Where street boxes are used as transformer chambers, reasonable means shall be taken to prevent as far as possible any influx of water, either from the adjacent soil, or by means of pipes; and in the case of any such street box exceeding 1 cubic yard in capacity, ample provision shall be made, by ventilation or otherwise, for the immediate escape of any gas which may by accident have obtained access to the box, and for the prevention of danger from sparking.
- (d) All street boxes shall be regularly inspected for the presence of gas, and if any influx or accumulation is discovered the Electric Authority shall give immediate notice to the local authority or company whose gas mains are laid in the neighbourhood of the street box.

TRANSFORMING STATIONS.

39. Transforming stations.—Transforming stations, or points in a system of distribution in which a high-pressure supply is transformed for the purpose of supply to consumers, and which are not on the consumer's premises, shall be established in suitable places which are in the sole occupation and charge of the Electric Authority.

Where transformers are attached to street poles they shall be securely fixed thereto at a height of at least 18 feet above ground, and shall be provided with switches and fusible cut-outs placed in both lead and return of both circuits of the transformer, in such a manner that it can be completely disconnected from the supply mains, and the whole apparatus shall be enclosed in a watertight covering, which, if of metal, shall be efficiently connected to earth, and necessary precautions shall be taken to render it impossible for the low-pressure or secondary conductors to receive current from the high-pressure or primary conductors.

CONSUMER'S PREMISES.

40. Responsibility of Electric Authority for their lines, &c., on consumer's premises.—The Electric Authority shall be responsible for all electric lines, fittings, and apparatus belonging to them or under their control, which may be upon a consumer's premises, being maintained in a safe condition and in all respects fit for supplying energy.

41. Fire risks.—In delivering the energy to a consumer's terminals the Electric Authority shall exercise all due precautions so as to avoid risk of causing fire on the premises.

42. Main fuses or disconnectors.—A suitable safety fuse or other automatic disconnector shall be inserted in each service line within a consumer's premises as close as possible to the point of entry, and contained within a suitable locked or sealed receptacle of fireproof construction, except in cases where the service line is protected by fuses in a street box.

43. Treatment of electric lines and apparatus on consumer's premises.—All electric lines and apparatus placed on a consumer's premises shall be highly insulated and thoroughly protected against injury to the insulation or access of moisture, and any metal forming part of the electric circuit shall not, unless efficiently connected with earth, be exposed so that it can be touched. All electric lines shall be so fixed and protected as to prevent the possibility of electrical discharge to any adjacent metallic substance.

44. Transformers and high-pressure apparatus to be enclosed in metal, &c.—Where the general supply of energy is a high-pressure supply, and transforming apparatus is installed on a consumer's premises, the whole of the high-pressure service lines, conductors, and apparatus, including the transforming apparatus itself so far as they are on the consumer's premises, shall be completely enclosed in solid walls, or in strong metal casing efficiently connected with earth, and securely fastened throughout.

45. Conditions under which wires and fittings may be fixed in buildings.—No electric wires or fittings shall be fixed on the premises of any consumer nor remain thereon except in accordance with rules or by-laws issued by the Electric Authority and approved by the Minister.

46. Circumstances under which Electric Authority may withhold supply of electricity.—If the Electric Authority is satisfied that the wires or fittings on any premises have not been fixed or are not maintained in accordance with such rules or By-laws as aforesaid or, are in such a condition that it is or would be dangerous to supply electricity to such wires or fittings, the Electric Authority may refuse or may discontinue the supply of electricity, and may withhold the supply till it is satisfied that the rules or By-laws have been complied with, or that it is no longer dangerous to supply the same.

When an Electric Authority withholds the supply of electricity under this Regulation, the Electric Authority shall forthwith report to the Minister the circumstances under which the supply was withheld, and the Minister may, upon application made by the consumer or the Electric Authority, appoint some fit and proper person or persons to inquire into the circumstances of the case. If the Minister is satisfied that the supply of electricity was wrongfully withheld, the Electric Authority shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five pounds, which may be imposed by the Minister.

ARC LIGHTING.

47. Arc lamps to be guarded.—All arc lamps shall be so guarded as to prevent pieces of ignited carbon or broken glass falling from them, and shall not be used in situations where there is any danger of the presence of explosive dust or gas.

48. Height from ground.—Arc lamps used in any street for public lighting, except where suspended over the roadway, shall be so fixed as not to be in any part at a less height than 10 feet from the ground. If suspended over the roadway of any street, arc lamps shall be so fixed as not to be in any part at a less height than 20 feet from the ground.

49. Cut-off switch.—Arc lamps used in any street for private lighting shall be fixed so as not to be in any part at a less height than 8 feet from the ground, and shall be so screened as to prevent risk of contact with persons. A cut-off switch, fixed in a suitable locked receptacle, shall be provided for every high-pressure arc lamp, and such switch shall be of such pattern and construction as will provide—

- (a) That the lamp can by its means be entirely disconnected from the supply circuit;
- (b) That the switch itself can be safely operated in the dark without special precautions; and
- (c) That there shall be no danger of any injurious electrical arcing, sparking, or heating being caused by the operation of the switch.

50. Penalties for default.—If the Electric Authority makes default in complying with any of the preceding Regulations, it shall, on conviction, be liable to a penalty not exceeding thirty pounds for every such default, and to a daily penalty not exceeding ten pounds.

The recovery of a penalty under these Regulations shall not affect the liability of the Electric Authority to make compensation in respect of any damage or injury which may be caused by reason of the default.

51. Regulations.—These Regulations are made subject to the power of the Governor in Council to make such further or other Regulations as he may think expedient, and nothing in these Regulations shall be construed to authorise the Electric Authority to construct any electric line or work their undertaking otherwise than in accordance with "The Electric Light and Power Act, 1896," and the Regulations for the time being in force thereunder, and the Order granted to the Electric Authority.

REGULATIONS FOR SECURING A PROPER AND SUFFICIENT SUPPLY OF ELECTRICAL ENERGY.

1. Notice of intention to supply through mains.—Forty-eight hours at least before the Electric Authority is ready to commence to supply energy through any feeding, charging, or distributing main, it shall serve a notice upon the Postmaster-General and the Local Authority of its intention to commence such supply.

2. Electric Authority to provide constant supply.—From and after the time when the Electric Authority commences to supply energy through any distributing main, it shall maintain a supply of sufficient power for the use of all the consumers for the time being entitled to be supplied from such main; and such supply shall, except so far as may be otherwise agreed upon from time to time between the Local Authority and the Electric Authority, be constantly maintained. Provided that, for the purpose of testing, or for any other purposes connected with the efficient working of the undertaking, the authority by whom the electric inspector is appointed may give permission to the Electric Authority to discontinue the supply at such intervals of time and for such periods as that authority may think expedient. When the supply is so discontinued, notice of such discontinuance, and of the probable duration thereof, shall be forthwith served upon the Local Authority.

3. Provisions as regards stoppage.—The system of distributing mains shall be so arranged that in case it becomes necessary to stop the supply through any portion of a main for more than one hour, for the purposes of repairs, or for any other reason, the stoppage of supply will in no case exceed in amount a maximum power of 200,000 watts, or extend to the premises of more than eighty consumers, and in the case of every stoppage for more than one hour reasonable notice shall be previously given by the Electric Authority to every consumer affected thereby except in cases of emergency.

4. Pressure in mains during supply.—During the whole of the period when a supply of energy is required to be maintained by the Electric Authority in the distributing mains under the Order and these Regulations it shall be maintained at a constant pressure (in these Regulations termed the "standard pressure"), but the standard pressure may be different for different portions of the distributing mains. Provided that the Electric Authority shall be deemed to have complied with the requirements of this Regulation so long as the pressure does not at any point vary more than 2 per cent. from the corresponding standard pressure in the case of a general supply at high pressure, or 3 per cent. in other cases, unless changes in pressure recur so frequently as to cause unsteadiness in the supply.

5. Fixing of standard pressure.—The standard pressure shall be fixed by the Electric Authority, and notice of the amount of such standard pressure shall be given to the Local Authority before the Electric Authority commences to supply energy to consumers, and such standard pressure shall not be altered except by permission of the Local Authority, and upon such terms and conditions as the Local Authority may impose, and after public notice has been given during a period of one month, in such manner as the Local Authority may require, of the intention of the Electric Authority to apply for permission to alter the same. The Electric Authority may appeal against any decision of the Local Authority under this Regulation to the Minister, whose decision shall be final.

6. Declared pressure at consumer's terminals.—Before commencing to give a supply of energy to any consumer, the Electric Authority shall declare to such consumer the constant pressure at which it proposes to supply energy at his terminals. The pressure so declared at any pair of consumer's terminals shall not at any time be altered or departed from except in consequence of any authorised alteration of the corresponding standard pressure. In the case of a transformation of energy on the consumer's premises, the Electric Authority shall give the consumer the choice of a supply at either of two different pressures, one of which shall be approximately half the other, and in such case the pressure so chosen by the consumer shall be the declared constant pressure.

7. Variation of pressure at consumer's terminals.—The variation of pressure at any consumer's terminals shall not, under any conditions of the supply which the consumer is entitled to receive, exceed 4 per cent. from the declared constant pressure.

8. Penalty for default.—If the Electric Authority makes default in complying with any of these Regulations as to supply, it shall, subject to the provisions of the Order, be liable on conviction to a penalty not exceeding thirty pounds for every such default, and to a daily penalty not exceeding ten pounds.

The recovery of a penalty under these Regulations shall not affect the liability of the Electric Authority to make compensation in respect of any damage or injury which may be caused by reason of the default.

9. Regulations.—These Regulations are made subject to the power of the Governor in Council to make such further or other Regulations as he may think expedient, and nothing in these Regulations shall be construed to authorise the Electric Authority to construct any electric line or work their undertaking otherwise than in accordance with "The Electric Light and Power Act, 1896," and the Regulations for the time being in force thereunder, and the order granted to the Electric Authority.

Post and Telegraph Department,

Brisbane, 30th December, 1896.

HIS Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, has been pleased to approve of the following Regulations in regard to Electric Traction, framed in accordance with the provisions and under the authority of "The Tramways Acts, 1882-90," and "The Electric Light and Power Act, 1896."

A. J. THYNNE.

REGULATIONS IN REGARD TO ELECTRIC TRACTION MADE BY THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL, UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF "THE TRAMWAYS ACTS, 1882-1890" AND "THE ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER ACT, 1896."

DEFINITIONS.

In the following regulations—

The term "Minister" means the Minister charged with the administration of "The Electric Light and Power Act, 1896."

The term "energy" means electrical energy.

The term "generator" means the dynamo or dynamos or other electrical apparatus used for the generation of energy.

The term "motor" means any electric motor carried on a car and used for the conversion of energy.

The term "pipe" means any gas or water pipe or other metallic pipe, structure, or substance.

The term "wire" means any wire or apparatus used for telegraphic, telephonic, electrical signalling, or other similar purposes.

The term "current" means an electric current exceeding one thousandth part of 1 ampere.

The term "Company" has the same meaning as in "The Tramways Act of 1882."

REGULATIONS.

1. Any dynamo used as a generator shall be of such pattern and construction as to be capable of producing a continuous current without appreciable pulsation.

2. One of the two conductors used for transmitting energy from the generators to the motors shall be in every case insulated from earth, and is hereinafter referred to as the "line"; the other may be insulated throughout, or may be uninsulated in such parts and to such extent as is provided in the following Regulations, and is hereinafter referred to as the "return."

3. Where any rails on which cars run or any conductors laid between or within 3 feet of such rails form any part of a return, such part may be uninsulated. All other returns or parts of a return shall be insulated, unless of such sectional area as will reduce the difference of potential between the ends of the uninsulated portion of the return below the limit laid down in Regulation 7.

4. When any uninsulated conductor laid between or within 3 feet of the rails forms any part of a return, it shall be electrically connected to the rails at distances apart not exceeding 100 feet by means of copper strips having a sectional area of at least one-sixteenth of a square inch, or by other means of equal conductivity.

5. When any part of a return is uninsulated it shall be connected with the negative terminal of the generator, and in such case the negative terminal of the generator shall also be directly connected, through the current-indicator hereinafter mentioned, by means of an insulated conductor of no appreciable resistance, to a main for water supply of not less than three inches internal diameter when the consent of the owner thereof and of the person supplying the water can be obtained.

Provided that when the necessary consents for such connection to a main for water supply cannot be obtained there shall be laid two separate earth connections which shall be placed not less than 20 yards apart.

The earth connections referred to in this Regulation shall be constructed, laid, and maintained so as to secure electrical contact with the general mass of earth, and so that an electro-motive force, not exceeding 4 volts, shall suffice to produce a current of at least 2 amperes from one earth connection to the other through the earth, and a test shall be made at least once in every month to ascertain whether this requirement is complied with; they shall be connected by insulated conductors of no appreciable resistance to the current-indicator hereinafter mentioned, and shall be connected to the negative terminal of the generator twice daily for periods of five minutes each. The connections are to be made at intervals of not less than six hours, and as nearly as possible to the time of maximum output.

The maximum reading through the current-indicator during each such test shall be recorded, together with the output at the time such reading was taken.

No portion of either earth connection shall be placed within 6 feet of any pipe except a main for water supply of not less than 3 inches internal diameter which is metallically connected to the earth connections with the consents hereinbefore specified.

6. When the return is partly or entirely uninsulated the company shall in the construction and maintenance of the tramway (a) so separate the uninsulated return from the general mass of earth, and from any pipe in the vicinity; (b) so connect together the several lengths of the rails; (c) adopt such means for reducing the difference produced by the current between the potential of the uninsulated return at any one point and the potential of the uninsulated return at any other point; and (d) so maintain the efficiency of the earth connections specified in the preceding Regulations as to fulfil the following conditions, viz.:—

(i.) That the current passing from the earth connections through the indicator to the generator shall not at any time exceed either 2 amperes per mile of single tramway line or 5 per cent. of the total current output of the station.

(ii.) That the electromotive force between the uninsulated return and any pipe in the vicinity shall not at any time exceed 4 volts if the return be positive to the pipe, or 1.25 volts if the pipe be positive to the return.

In order to provide an indication that the condition (i.) is complied with, the company shall place in a conspicuous position a suitable, properly connected, and correctly marked current-indicator, and shall keep it connected during the whole time that the line is charged, when the negative terminal of the generator is connected to a main for water supply, or for the periods specified in Regulation 5 when it is connected to two separate earth connections.

The owner of any such pipe may require the company to permit him at reasonable times and intervals to ascertain by test that the conditions specified in (ii.) are complied with as regards his pipe; and the company shall ascertain by tests, at least once in every month, that the said conditions specified in (ii.) are fulfilled for every standpipe for water supply, fire plug, or other connection to any pipe which is accessible from the street level, and which is within ten feet of any part of an uninsulated return.

7. When the return is partly or entirely uninsulated a continuous record shall be kept by the company of the difference of potential during the working of the tramway between the points of the uninsulated return furthest from and nearest to the generating station. If at any time such difference of potential is found to exceed 5 volts, and the undertakers fail to reduce it below that limit after being notified, they shall thereafter keep a continuous record, of the said difference of potential, and, if at any time such difference of potential exceeds the limit of 7 volts, the company shall take immediate steps to reduce it below that limit.

8. Every electrical connection with any pipe shall be so arranged as to admit of easy examination, and shall be tested by the company at least once in every three months.

9. Every line and every insulated return or part of a return except any feeder shall be constructed in sections not exceeding one-half of a mile in length, unless with the consent of the Minister, and means shall be provided for isolating each such section for purposes of testing.

10. The insulation of the line and of the return when insulated and of all feeders and other conductors shall be so maintained that the leakage current shall not exceed one-hundredth of an ampere per mile of tramway. The leakage current shall be ascertained daily before or after the hours of running, when the line is fully charged. If at any time it should be found that the leakage current exceeds one-half of an ampere per mile of tramway, the leak shall be localised and removed as soon as practicable, and the running of the cars shall be stopped unless the leak is localised and removed within twenty-four hours. Provided that where both line and return are placed within a conduit this Regulation shall not apply.

11. The insulation resistance of all continuously-insulated cables used for lines, for insulated returns, for feeders, or for other purposes, and laid below the surface of the ground, shall not be permitted to fall below the equivalent of 10 megohms for a length of one mile. A test of the insulation resistance of all such cables shall be made at least once in each month.

12. Where in any case in any part of the tramway the line is erected overhead and the return is laid on or under the ground, and where any wires have been erected or laid before the construction of the tramway in the same or nearly the same direction as such part of the tramway, the company shall, if required so to do by the owners of such wires or any of them, permit such owners to insert and maintain in the company's line one or more induction coils or other apparatus approved by the company for the purpose of preventing disturbance by electric induction. In any case in which the company withhold their approval of any such apparatus the owners may appeal to the Minister, who may, if he thinks fit, dispense with such approval.

13. Any insulated return shall be placed parallel to and at a distance not exceeding 3 feet from the line when the line and return are both erected overhead, or 18 inches when they are both laid underground, unless the consent of the Minister to a greater distance has been previously obtained.

14. In the disposition, connections, and working of feeders the company shall take all reasonable precautions to avoid injurious interference with any existing wires.

15. The company shall so construct and maintain their system as to secure good contact between the motors and the line and return respectively.

16. The company shall adopt the best means available to prevent the occurrence of undue sparking at the rubbing or rolling contacts in any place and in the construction and use of their generator and motor.

17. In working the cars the current shall be varied as required by some efficient method of gradually varying resistance.

18. Where the line or return or both are laid in a conduit the following conditions shall be complied with in the construction and maintenance of such conduit:—

(a) The conduit shall be so constructed as to admit of easy examination of and access to the conductors contained therein and their insulators and supports.

(b) It shall be so constructed as to be readily cleared of accumulation of dust or other debris, and such accumulation shall be permitted to remain.

(c) It shall be laid to such falls as to be connected to sumps or other means of drainage, as to automatically clear itself of water without danger of the water reaching the level of the conductors.

(d) If the conduit is formed of metal, all separate lengths shall be so jointed as to secure metallic continuity for the passage of electric currents. Where the rails are used to form any part of the return they shall be electrically connected to the conduit by means of copper strips having a sectional area of at least one-sixteenth of a square inch, or other means of equal conductivity, of distances apart not exceeding 100 feet. Where the return is wholly insulated and contained within the conduit, the latter shall be connected to earth at the generating station through a high resistance galvanometer suitable for the indication of any contact or partial contact of either the line or the return with the conduit.

(e) If the conduit is formed of any non-metallic material not being of high insulating quality, and impervious to moisture throughout, and is placed within 6 feet of any pipe, a non-conducting screen shall be interposed between the conduit and the pipe, of such material and dimensions as shall provide that no current can pass between them without traversing at least 6 feet of earth, or the conduit itself shall in such case be lined with bitumen or other non-conducting damp-resisting material in all cases where it is placed within 6 feet of any pipe.

(f) The leakage current shall be ascertained daily, before or after the hours of running, when the line is fully charged, and if at any time it shall be found to exceed half an ampere per mile of tramway the leak shall be localised, and removed as soon as practicable, and the running of the cars shall be stopped unless the leak is localised and removed within twenty-four hours.

19. The company shall, so far as may be applicable to their system of working, keep records as specified below. These records shall, if and when required, be forwarded for the information of the Minister.

General Conditions.

1. The words "inspecting officer" throughout these conditions and specifications shall mean any officer appointed by the Postmaster-General to superintend the work.

2. The word "contractor" throughout these conditions and specifications shall mean all and any of the partners of a firm, or any single individual.

3. The wire insulators, insulator spindles, galvanised iron roofs, roof nails, lightning conductors, and staples for lightning conductors will be supplied by the Government and delivered to the contractor in Brisbane. The quantities issued will be upon the proper estimate and requisition of the contractor, who will be held responsible for applying for sufficient, and any surplus material after the completion of the contract must be delivered by the contractor, free of charge, at the Stores of the Post and Telegraph Department, Brisbane.

4. The whole of the works included in this contract must be completed and handed over to the Government within six (6) weeks of the notification of the acceptance of the tender; and should the completion of the works be delayed beyond that date, the contractor shall forfeit and pay to the Government, as and for liquidated and ascertained damages, the sum of five pounds sterling for every week or part of a week that shall elapse after such date until their completion, and the amount of such damages may be deducted by the Government from any money payable to the contractor under this contract.

5. Payment will be made monthly to the extent of seventy-five (75) per cent. on the value of the work reported to have been completed by the officer appointed to inspect the same; but, notwithstanding such report and payment on account, the Under Secretary and Superintendent of Electric Telegraphs, or other officer appointed by him in that behalf, shall have full power at any time afterwards, before final payment shall be made, of rejecting and condemning any of the work or materials in respect of which such report and payments may have been made. Certificates must be produced from the Chairman of the Divisional Board through whose Division the line passes, and from property owners if through or near the boundaries of private lands, that no claims are made by them under Clause 7, before final payment will be made. The total balance will be paid when the entire contract shall have been completed and all claims settled to the satisfaction of the Government.

6. The contractor will be held responsible for any interruption to the working of the line caused by himself or his employees. If any such interruption should occur, the contractor will have to defray the cost of repairs; and in the event of default to do so on the part of the contractor, the Under Secretary and Superintendent of Electric Telegraphs will have the power to defray the cost of all or any such repairs from moneys due to the contractor.

7. The contractor may avail himself of the facilities afforded by "The Post and Telegraph Act, 1891," for obtaining materials, on signing a bond indemnifying the Government against any claims for compensation arising from the action of the contractor: Provided always that it shall be lawful for the Under Secretary and Superintendent of Electric Telegraphs, from moneys due to the contractor, if not otherwise settled, to satisfy any such claim he may see fit.

8. No action or suit shall be brought or maintained by the contractor or the Under Secretary and Superintendent of Electric Telegraphs against the other of them to recover any money for or in respect of or arising out of this contract, or any breach thereof by the contractor or the Under Secretary and Superintendent of Electric Telegraphs, or for or in respect of any other matter or thing arising out of this contract, unless and until the contractor or the Under Secretary and Superintendent of Electric Telegraphs has obtained a certificate of the inspecting officer for the amount sued for, and then only for the amount so certified.

9. The contractor will have to provide, at his own cost, all labour, plant, tools, material (other than that mentioned in Clause 3 of these conditions), or whatever else may be required for the due performance of this contract.

10. The contractor will be responsible for all claims for compensation for damage to fences or other property caused by the erection of the line, also for damage so caused to roads; and if such claims are not defrayed, the Under Secretary and Superintendent of Electric Telegraphs is authorised to pay the same from any moneys due to the contractor.

11. Should the contractor fail to proceed in the execution of, or to complete, the work in the manner and at the rate of progress required by the Postmaster-General, it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General, by a notice in writing delivered to the contractor or his representative, or by a notice in the Queensland Government Gazette, to terminate the contract, as far as relates to the work remaining to be done, and to enforce the penalties for the non-fulfilment of the contract; and all sums of money which may be due to the contractor, together with all plant, materials, and implements in his possession on the ground, and all sums of money, whether named in the bond to be entered into by the contractor and his sureties, or otherwise, as penalties for the non-fulfilment of the contract, shall be forfeited to the Government, and the amount shall be considered as ascertained damages for breach of contract.

12. A deposit of a sum equal to ten (10) per cent. of the total tender cost of the whole work must accompany each Tender (without which Tenders will be informal), also a memorandum signed by the party tendering, and two responsible persons as sureties, agreeing to be answerable for the due performance of the contract within the time stipulated, in the event of the Tender being accepted, and undertaking in that event that they will severally execute and deliver at the Office of the Under Secretary and Superintendent of Electric Telegraphs, in Brisbane, within ten (10) days from the date of the notification of the acceptance of the Tender, a bond to Her Majesty in a sum equal to twenty (20) per cent. on the amount of the Tender.

13. All workmen and employees engaged upon the works by the contractor shall be paid their full wages in lawful money, at least once in every month.

14. Such payments shall be made in some building or place convenient to the site of the works, but in no case shall such payments be made at any public-house or other place where liquors or refreshments are sold.

15. The contractor shall not sell or dispose of, or be in any way interested in the sale or disposal of, alcoholic liquors or other articles of consumption, to the workmen or employees engaged upon the works.

16. If the contractor sublets any portion of the works, all workmen and employees engaged thereon shall be paid by the sub-contractor at the times and under the conditions herein specified, but in the event of the sub-contractor failing to make any such payments then the contractor shall be liable to make the same.

17. Before the payment of any money to the contractor, the Postmaster-General may require from him satisfactory evidence that all the workmen and employees then and theretofore engaged upon the works have been paid their wages and other lawful claims of every kind in full, in lawful money, and to the latest date at which such wages and claims are due; and the Postmaster-General may withhold the payment of all moneys due or that may become due to the contractor, until he is satisfied that such wages and claims have been paid.

18. If the contractor fails or omits to pay to any workmen or employees engaged upon the works their full wages in cash once at least in every month, the Postmaster-General may, as often as the same shall happen, upon complaint of such failure or omission made, and upon evidence satisfactory to him of an order or judgment of a Court of Petty Sessions, or of any other court of competent jurisdiction, pay the amount mentioned in such order to such workmen or employees, and deduct the amounts so paid from any sum or sums which may be due or become due to the contractor.

19. Although the Under Secretary and Superintendent of Electric Telegraphs or his officers may furnish any information in connection with this contract, any such information shall not relieve the contractor from any risk or from the fulfilment of his contract, nor will the fact of any such information being given entitle the contractor to make any claim for compensation.

20. The inspecting officer shall have the power to order the dismissal or removal of any foreman or workman employed by the contractor upon giving written notice to the contractor of his intention to do so; and if such foreman or workman is retained by the contractor after such notice has been given, then the inspecting officer shall have the power to delay the signing of any voucher or certificate for payment for any work done until such order has been obeyed.

21. The decision of the Government Electrical Engineer will be final in all matters of dispute between the contractors and the Government in regard to this contract.

22. The contractor must shift camp for the inspecting officer as required.

23. A copy of the conditions and specification, signed by the contractor, and duly witnessed, must accompany each Tender.

24. The Government does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any Tender.

Specification.

1. Clearing of undergrowth, where necessary, to be carried out in accordance with and in the manner specified in Clauses 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6. Clearing is only to be done in such places as the inspecting officer may direct.

2. All dead timber and underwood standing within forty (40) feet on each side of the line to be felled; and all fallen timber, whether felled by the contractor or otherwise, dead logs, old poles, and fallen undergrowth, within a radius of twenty (20) feet from each pole, to be cleared away.

3. A bridle track of not less than eight (8) feet in width to be cleared of all logs and fallen timber or undergrowth; this track must be in the centre of the clearing, unless directed otherwise by the inspecting officer. Where the road is within the clearing, a bridle-track will not be required.

4. Any branches overhanging from trees beyond the distance mentioned, which, in the judgment of the inspecting officer, might endanger the line, to be removed. Every care must be taken not to damage fencing or any other property.

5. Trees outside the distance mentioned (40 feet), which, in the judgment of the inspecting officer, might endanger the line, are to be felled.

6. All existing cleared roads which may become blocked by fallen timber or undergrowth must be cleared by the removal of the timber or undergrowth to the original width of such roadway. In cases where tracks may become blocked, all fallen timber must be removed, leaving a clear space of not less than twenty (20) feet in width, following the course of such track.

7. Poles to be straight saplings of the best description of narrow-leaved ironbark or other approved timber (the approval of any timber will rest with the Government), with the bark removed, not less than six (6) inches in the least diameter, clear of sapwood, at the small end, and not less than thirty-one (31) inches in circumference at five (5) feet from the butt, and not less than twenty-seven (27) feet in length; to be carefully and thoroughly charred from the butt upwards to one (1) foot above the ground, the charred portion to be well coated with hot coal tar. Extra-length poles to be three (3) inches greater in circumference at five (5) feet from the butt for each additional five (5) feet in length.

8. The top of each pole to be sawn off with a bevel of one (1) in one (1) on each side, so as to leave an equal slope on each side of the pole. Over the top thus formed the galvanised iron roof to be neatly fitted and nailed to the pole with four (4)

two (2) inch clout nails, two nails on each side. The iron roof must project beyond the pole on all sides, not less nor more than two (2) inches.

9. Each new pole to have two (2) iron brackets affixed, one on each side and at right angles to the line of the wires. All sapwood must be cut away under each bracket so that they will lie firmly on the sound timber of the pole. The top bracket to be affixed at nine (9) inches from the top of the pole, and on the right-hand side looking to the "Up" Station (Brisbane side); the other bracket to be on the opposite side of the pole and seven (7) inches lower than the other. All brackets are to be fastened to the poles by means of three (3) 3-inch coach screws.

10. Existing poles which it is not intended to replace by new ones are to have all loose or decayed sapwood carefully chipped off and deposited outside the twenty (20) feet radius around the pole.

11. On the existing poles which it is not intended to replace with new ones any brackets which may be broken or loose, or in which the screws may not be thoroughly screwed home, shall be removed. A new seat for the bracket shall be formed by removing the sapwood, and the brackets shall then be re-screwed. New holes must be bored for the screws, which are not under any circumstances to be driven in the former holes. All such brackets are to be fastened to the poles by means of three (3) inch coach screws.

12. Lightning conductors to be of No. 8 gauge galvanised iron wire, to be stretched straight from the top to the butt of each pole, and to be secured thereto with fourteen (14) staples of galvanised iron wire one and a-half (1½) inches in length. Staples bent in driving must be drawn and replaced by straight ones. The top of the conductor to be twisted once round a three (3) inch coach screw driven four (4) inches below the top of the pole, and then bent so that it will project not less than six (6) inches above the iron roof on the top of the pole; the other end of the conductor to be bent under the butt of the pole. If the poles exceed the specified length, the lightning conductors shall be proportionately longer, and an additional staple shall be driven for every two (2) feet additional length. Where poles are alongside roads, the staples to be driven at every foot from the ground to a height of eight (8) feet. Lightning conductors to be affixed to the poles midway between the brackets, on the "Up" station side.

13. The poles are to be erected in the position indicated by the inspecting officer; to be sunk five (5) feet in the ground, placed in a perpendicular position, and well rammed with rubble or earth. Extra-length poles to be sunk any extra depth in the ground that the inspecting officer may direct.

14. At angles and other places where required, struts are to be supplied and fitted. Struts are to be of approved timber (approval rests with the Government); to be about twenty-one (21) feet three (3) inches in length, sawn off square at the butt; to be not less than six (6) inches, clear of sapwood, in the least diameter at the small end, and not less than twenty-four (24) inches in circumference at the butt. Struts should not weaken the pole; therefore as little as possible of the timber of the pole inside the sapwood should be cut away at the joint. The small end of the strut is to be carefully and neatly scarfed to fit the pole at seventeen (17) feet from the ground level for a twenty-seven (27) foot pole. The joint must be neat and well fitting. A one-half (½) inch bolt is to be used to fasten the head of the strut to the pole. All sapwood must be removed under both heads of bolts and nuts. The inspecting officer will give instructions as to the angle at which the strut is to be placed against the pole.

Where the inspecting officer so directs, a block is to be securely fitted to the foot of the strut. The ground must be undercut to take the strut block, so that any pull may be against unmade ground. In the event of the inspecting officer so directing, a base block must also be fitted to such poles.

Dimensions of base blocks for these purposes to be three (3) feet in length by eight (8) inches in diameter, clear of sapwood. The block must be of approved hardwood, and must be thoroughly charred before it is bolted to the pole. Any loose charcoal must be scraped off both strut, pole, and block before being bolted together. Blocks to be bolted to either struts or poles with half (½) inch bolts. Struts must be not less than three (3) feet in the ground.

Angle poles must have a slight batter or rake from the vertical at the top to allow for settling. This batter must on no account exceed twelve (12) inches. Care must be taken that the batter or rake is against the strain.

15. Where the wire requires to be re-tied to insulators on such poles as are not to be replaced by new ones, such re-tying must be done by the contractor.

16. The wire is to be stretched in accordance with instructions to be given by the inspecting officer.

17. All insulators must be perfectly clean when placed upon the insulator pins; and if the inspecting officer considers that the insulators require washing, the contractor must wash them before they are placed on the poles. Clean fresh water must always be used when washing is required.

18. All joints are to be of the pattern known as the "Britannia" joint. The ends of the line wire where joined are to be thoroughly cleaned with a file or emery cloth; the ends are then to be laid together and whipped round for two and a-half (2½) inches with No. 16 binding wire, which must also be thoroughly cleaned. The whole joint is then to be carefully soldered. Baker's soldering fluid, only, to be used as a flux. A supply will be provided by the Government.

19. The line wire is to be tied to the insulators with the binding wire supplied for that purpose and in the manner prescribed.

20. All material used in the construction of this work, or any part of it, must be of the best quality, and, together with the workmanship, is to be subject to the final approval or rejection of the Electrical Engineer, or any officer appointed by him to inspect the same.

Tender forms, and every other information, may be obtained on application at the Office of the Under Secretary and Superintendent of Electric Telegraphs, Brisbane.

4. Subscribers to the Telephone Exchanges will be allowed to have their names recorded twice in the "Telephone Directory," free of charge, but, in the event of more than two names being required to be inserted by a subscriber, an annual fee of five shillings will be charged for each additional name. No subscriber will, however, be allowed to have more than six names inserted in the directory. Before any additional names will be inserted in the directory, evidence must be produced to the satisfaction of the Postmaster-General that the subscriber is acting as agent for the person or firm whose name he desires to be inserted, and in no case will any one but the subscriber be allowed to use the telephone on behalf of such person or firm.

6. All rates will be payable half-yearly in advance, and include attendance, adjustments, repairs, and renewals of lines, instruments, and batteries.

7. Mileage will be calculated radially from the exchange as the centre.

8. Every subscriber shall enter into an agreement, in accordance with these Regulations, for the use of the lines for a period of not less than three years, after which one calendar month's notice must be given of intention to discontinue the use of the same.

9. Rent will be charged half-yearly from the date of completion of the line. The first half-year's rent to be paid in advance, and thereafter half-yearly in advance. 10. 14. If any instrument be moved by the Department, the subscriber will be required to pay the cost or such proportion of the cost of the work as the Postmaster-General may determine. The rent and other charges will be adjusted according to the altered length of the line.

16. With a view to facilitate business, and for the better conduct of the system, telephone messages containing unbecoming expressions must be refrained from, and language of an obscene nature, or of a character calculated to provoke a breach of the peace, is strictly forbidden. 29. The Post and Telegraph Department may either—

- Erect the line and keep it in order, charging the usual rental of five pounds for the first mile or any intermediate distance, and a proportionate rate of one pound five shillings for every additional half of a mile or fraction thereof; or
- Grant permission for its erection upon payment of an annual royalty of ten shillings per mile for the first five miles, and five shillings per mile or fraction of a mile exceeding five; but will undertake no responsibility in connection with the maintenance or repair of such line.

The Government reserves the right of deciding which of these two courses will be approved.

30. When a telephone wire can be run on the poles of a telegraph line, the Post and Telegraph Department will, if approved, carry a wire thereon at the rate before mentioned, marked (a), but the Government reserves the right to determine on what telegraph lines telephone wires may be allowed.

31. Permission to have telephone lines can only be granted to private persons conditionally upon their being used solely for the business of the applicants; any attempt to use such lines for other than their own business, by the applicants, will be met by a withdrawal of the permission granted, and the forfeiture of any rent paid.

32. The Government reserves the right of withdrawing the provision granted, on giving six months' notice of such intention.

33. All lines constructed by persons other than the Postmaster-General under the provisions of this Regulation shall be constructed and maintained in a manner approved by the Postmaster-General.

2. The objects of the brigade shall be to attend (with means of extinguishing) all fires where the services of the brigade may be required or necessary.

3. The brigade shall consist of twenty-six members, to be elected as provided in clause 7 of these By-laws, except that all members in the brigade shall be considered as having been elected.

4. A special meeting of the brigade may be called by the superintendent at any time, or by the secretary, upon receiving a requisition signed by seven members specifying the objects for which such meeting is to be called: Provided that at least three days' notice of such meeting be given to each member.

7. Candidates for enrolment in the brigade must be between the ages of twenty-one and forty years; they must reside within one mile from the station-house; they must be proposed and seconded at a monthly meeting and balloted for at the monthly meeting next ensuing. 8. The officers of the brigade shall consist of the superintendent, assistant superintendent, captain of the hose and reel, captain of the engine, and secretary. The latter three officers shall be elected by the members of the brigade at the annual meeting to be held at the engine-station on the first Thursday in March in each year.

A member unavoidably absent from any meeting, practice, or fire, may send to the secretary a written excuse within three days thereafter; such excuse shall be dealt with by the brigade at the first subsequent meeting. Any member refusing to obey the officer in command, or using improper language when on parade, at meetings, fires, or practices, or appearing at any of the same in a state of intoxication, or who shall at any time be guilty of unseemly conduct, or shall do any act calculated to bring discredit upon the brigade, or in a way detrimental to its interests, shall be immediately suspended by the officer in command, pending an investigation to be held at the general meeting of the brigade next ensuing. Any member who has been fined shall pay the amount of the fine within one month from the time of its infliction, and if at the expiration of the time allowed the fine be not paid such member shall be considered expelled from the brigade. No fine shall exceed the sum of five shillings or be less than one shilling.

17. No member who has been expelled from the brigade shall be eligible for re-enrolment.

18. In no case shall a member be allowed more than three consecutive months' leave of absence in each year.

19. The secretary shall keep a record of the names and addresses of all members of the brigade, and any member changing his residence must notify the same to the secretary at once.

20. In the event of the death of any member, the bell shall, if agreeable to his relations, be tolled, and each member, if able to attend, shall follow the remains of the deceased to the place of interment in full uniform.

21. Any member carelessly or wilfully damaging or making away with any part of the uniform or other property of the brigade, or who shall wear the uniform of the brigade except on duty or with the permission of the superintendent, shall be suspended and dealt with as provided by Rule 15.

All members on enrolment shall sign a guarantee to return all uniform and accoutrements on leaving the brigade.

22. At all fires, parades, drills, and practices, silence and obedience to the officers shall be observed. No member shall use the whistle but the superintendent, or, in his absence, the officer in charge, who shall surrender the same on the arrival of his superior, and every member shall make himself thoroughly acquainted with the By-laws and Regulations and endeavour to do his work smartly.

23. No By-law shall be suspended or repealed, nor shall any new By-law be made, unless by the consent of a majority of the members present at a special meeting called for that purpose, of which meeting one month's notice in writing shall be given to each member.

MUNICIPALITY OF WARWICK.

Home Secretary's Office,
Brisbane, 22nd December, 1896.

HIS Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, has, in pursuance of the provisions of "The Local Government Act of 1878," "The Local Government Act Amendment Act of 1886," "The Health Act of 1884," and "The Health Act Amendment Act of 1886," been pleased to approve of the following By-laws, made by the Council of the Municipality of Warwick.

HORACE TOZER.

WHEREAS by "The Local Government Act of 1878," "The Local Government Act Amendment Act of 1886," "The Health Act of 1884," and "The Health Act Amendment Act of 1886," Councils of Municipalities are empowered to make By-laws for all or any of the purposes in the said Acts mentioned: It is hereby resolved by the Council of the Municipality of Warwick, by and with the approval of the Governor in Council, that the following By-laws shall be in force within the said Municipality from the date of the publication hereof:—

BY-LAW No. 29.

WATER RATES ON VACANT AND UNOCCUPIED LANDS SITUATE WITHIN THREE HUNDRED FEET OF STREETS OR ROADS ON WHICH WATER MAINS ARE LAID DOWN.

1. The Municipal Council adopt, as the basis upon which they will make and levy rates upon vacant and unoccupied lands situate within three hundred feet of streets or roads in which water mains are laid down, the annual value of such land as determined by the last preceding valuation for the time being made by the said Municipal Council.

Vacant or unoccupied lands which abut upon or have direct access to or from any street, road, or lane in which a main pipe has been laid down, and which lands are within three hundred feet of such main pipe, shall be rated for water as follows:—

- (a) The annual rate in respect of such land the value whereof does not exceed sixty pounds shall be two shillings; and for every additional sixty pounds' value, or part thereof, two shillings extra: Provided that no such annual rate shall exceed ten shillings for any one allotment of such vacant or unoccupied land.
- (b) Provided also that no water rates shall be charged in respect of land used exclusively for public worship or for educational purposes, schools of arts, agricultural societies, or hospitals, unless such lands are let or leased.

2. If at any time the Municipal Council are of opinion that by reason of deficiency of rainfall, or any other cause, the supply of water from the waterworks under their control is likely to be inadequate for the full supply of consumers unless the amount of consumption is limited, and that it is therefore necessary to limit the consumption of such water, the Council may by order prohibit the consumption of water without the sanction of the Council first had and obtained for any purpose other than domestic purposes.

The term "domestic purposes" shall mean and include all the purposes for which water is ordinarily used in a dwelling-house or the premises attached thereto, but shall not include the use of garden taps or the use of water for irrigation purposes. A copy of any such order shall be published twice in one or more newspapers usually circulating in Warwick.

From and after the date of the last of such publications it shall not be lawful to use without the written sanction of the Municipal Council, for any purpose other than domestic purposes, any water supplied by the Council.

Penalty for using water while prohibition is in force.

3. Any person who while any such prohibition is in force uses without the written sanction of the Municipal Council for any purpose other than domestic purposes, any water supplied by the Council shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five pounds sterling.

Notice will be given of water having been cut off in case of emergency.

4. In the event of its becoming necessary to turn off the supply in consequence of a burst in the mains or from any other urgent cause, such notice of the water being turned off will be given as the circumstances of the case will admit.

General penalty.

5. Every person who commits any offence against this By-law shall, where no other penalty is expressly provided, be liable for every such offence to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds.

Hydrographic Notice No. 33.

1. MALAITA, SOLOMON ISLANDS.

(a) AUKI ISLAND.

Information has been received from H.M.S. "Pylades" that there is an anchorage inside Auki Island, with entrance $1\frac{1}{2}$ cables wide.

It is situated on the west coast of Malaita, in latitude $8^{\circ} 53' S.$, longitude, by chart 1469, $160^{\circ} 49' E.$, and by chart 214, $160^{\circ} 42' E.$

The natives are very friendly, the islands about being densely populated, and there is a considerable trade in shell money, which is largely made here.

(b) FEU.

Feu is incorrectly shown in the charts, being a village in the centre of Malaita. To reach it, it would be shorter to land at Mannaquo, on the east coast, than at Feu Bay.

Good anchorage in 10 fathoms was found in Feu Bay, sheltered from north winds by a reef running off shore.

Charts affected—214, 1469.

Sailing Directions—Pacific Islands, Vol. I., page 373.

("Pylades," 6th July, 1896: Office No. $\frac{1}{2}$.)

2. LONG ISLAND, CHESTERFIELD GROUP.

With reference to remarks on this island given in Australian Directory, Vol. II., page 500, H.M.S. "Pylades" reports that this island is not covered with trees as stated. There are only two coconut trees, surrounded by rails, the island being covered with grass. There is a flagstaff, together with several deserted huts, at its south extreme. The height of the island is stated to be about 20 feet. The small islands to the southern end are only just above the level of the water.

The vapour tension, which may be regarded as the absolute humidity of the air, is expressed in thousandths of an inch of the barometric column. If the values for vapour tension be subtracted from the values for atmospheric pressure the remainders will represent the weight of the air proper or dry air. The tensions, in fact, represent the weight of the vapour.

Such renewal can only be refused through non-fulfilment of the requirements laid down in Article 2.

The decision of the Fieldcornet shall be subject to an appeal to the Government.

ARTICLE 6.

Foreigners, who, when applying for a renewal of their travelling and residing passports, declare that they intend to settle in the Republic, need only renew their travelling and residing passports once a year, provided always that they give the required guarantee that they will be obedient to the laws of the country, by making a sworn or other declaration to the satisfaction of the Fieldcornet.

ARTICLE 7.

The above Regulations shall not be applicable to foreigners, who may be already residing in the Republic, on the coming into force of this law, or who have been duly registered according to law, at the Fieldcornet's office, or who may so register themselves within one month.

Home Secretary's Office,
Brisbane, 27th January, 1897.

HIS Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, has, in pursuance of the provisions of the "Cemetery Act of 1865," been pleased to approve of the following Rules and Regulations made by the Trustees of the Cedar Creek Cemetery.

J. F. G. FOXTON.

WHEREAS by the "Cemetery Act 1865" the Trustees of any public cemetery may make Rules and Regulations for all or any of the purposes in the said Act mentioned: It is hereby resolved by the Trustees of the Cedar Creek Cemetery, by and with the approval of the Governor in Council, that the following Rules and Regulations shall be in force within the said cemetery from the date of the publication hereof:—

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

1. The trustees shall meet at such time and place as may be agreed upon. A special meeting may at any time be called on the requisition of two trustees, or, if urgency require it, by the secretary.

2. At the first meeting in the year the trustees shall elect a chairman, a treasurer, and secretary, who shall hold office for the ensuing twelve months, and shall be eligible for re-election.

3. No business shall be transacted at any meeting of the trustees, whether ordinary or special, unless three trustees at least be present.

4. Under ordinary circumstances no burial shall be allowed to take place except between 8 a.m. and sundown, except in case of great urgency, and upon the written authority of two trustees, and subject to such reasonable conditions as they may impose.

5. Application for leave to bury shall be made to the secretary of the trustees, who, on payment of the fees chargeable under Schedule A hereto, shall furnish the applicant with a printed paper addressed to the sexton or undertaker, and containing the necessary instructions for the preparation of the grave, &c. This paper shall be presented to the sexton or undertaker six working hours at least before the time fixed for burial of the deceased person. Application for permission to erect monuments, vaults, tombstones, railings, &c., must be made in a similar manner.

6. Before any funeral shall be admitted within the gates of the cemetery the sexton must be furnished with the usual certificate of the district registrar, coroner, or magistrate, as the case may be.

7. The secretary, after the funeral ceremony is over, shall affix to each grave a number corresponding to the number contained in the register of the secretary.

8. The sexton is on no account to allow any person to disturb any grave or vault, or to erect, remove, or alter any monument, tombstone, railing, &c., without the written authority of the trustees or the secretary.

9. The secretary shall enter in a book to be kept for the purpose the particulars of each application made under Rule 5. Such entry shall specify the name of the applicant, age, sex, calling, and religion of the deceased, the date of death and burial, and the number of the grave, together with the names of the officiating minister and undertaker.

10. The space allowed for a single grave shall be 8 feet by 4 feet; for a double grave or vault, 8 feet by 8 feet; and for a family grave, 8 feet by 12 feet. A grave intended for an adult shall be dug at least 6 feet deep, and for a child not less than 4 feet 6 inches. All graves shall be dug either by or under the immediate direction of the secretary or sexton.

11. The trustees shall not at any time interfere directly or indirectly with the performance of any religious ceremony in the burial of the dead according to the usage of the communion to which the deceased may have belonged, or with the original distribution of land amongst the various religious denominations.

12. The trustees shall, on the request or requisition of any religious denomination, set apart a portion of the cemetery for the use and interment of the members of any such religious denominations or communion, which portion shall be subject, nevertheless, to the general supervision and control of the trustees.

13. Any person desirous of erecting a monument or tombstone in any part of the cemetery shall submit a plan or description of the same to the trustees, who shall be at liberty to withhold their permission and prevent the erection of any monument which shall appear to them inappropriate and unbecoming.

14. The trustees shall keep a full and particular account of all sums of money received and expended by them, and shall make an abstract of such account from the 1st January to the 31st December in each year, and shall submit such account and abstract, duly certified by three trustees, to the Home Secretary of the colony, on or before the first day of March in each year, and shall accompany each account and abstract with a statement of the condition of the cemetery as to repairs, order, or ornament, and suggestions as to the alterations necessary or expedient in the ensuing year in such repairs, order, or ornament, and an estimate of the probable expense of the same.

15. Notwithstanding anything contained in these Regulations, the trustees may permit the remains of any poor person to be interred free of all charges whatsoever, provided they are satisfied that the friends or relatives of the deceased are unable to pay the burial fees.

16. No person shall be allowed to prepare a grave within the cemetery except the person or his assistants appointed by the trustees for that purpose without the permission of two trustees.

17. The trustees may order the removal of any monument, tombstone, or other erection which shall not have been sanctioned by them, or without the written permission of two trustees.

18. All monuments, vaults, graves, and gravestones must be kept in repair and proper condition by or at expense of the owners.

19. A plan of the cemetery, a register of all special grants and of the position of all graves in the cemetery, will be kept by the trustees, and be open to inspection upon payment of the charges mentioned in Schedule A hereto.

20. The sexton has orders to turn out or take into custody (as the case may be) any person who shall behave indecorously, or commit any trespass or injury to the trees, flowers, or structures, or otherwise infringe any of the provisions of the laws relating to the management of cemeteries in Queensland, or the regulations passed under the authority thereof; and any such person will be proceeded against in accordance with the 36th section of the "Cemetery Act 1865."

21. Not more than two bodies of adults shall be interred in one grave.
